Squire Days Welcome Frosh To Wartburg

All eyes are on those people wearing the orange beanies. Over 400 freshmen are now facing the rigors of those first days at Wartburg.

All in a day's work for a freshman are buttoning, singing songs, reciting nursery rhymes and almost anything the cruel sophomores can think of for them to do.

Freshmen make required purchases.

Guys form a masculine type of chorus line.

Frosh models new fashions as he buttons to his megaphone.

Twist can be done to the Wartburg Fight Song.

Bat in the hands of a sophomore threatens a buttoning initiate.

More cruel than initiation is the torture of standing in line to pay your bills.

Knights To Face Venture

Well, here we are -- back at Wartburg. For some it will be a completely new venture. For others it is just another year. But even though it is just another year, it is still a new venture.

Wartburg doesn't seem to be quite the same school we left last spring. Things seem to be looking up.

On returning to the Wartburg campus, students were confronted with the many physical changes. The new dorm and the great improvements in Wartburg Hall combined with the smaller improvements, such as new curtains and paint jobs in the dorms, add a great deal to the attitude of the student body.

Food Improves

And then there is the improvement in the cafeteria service. We haven't heard a single complaint about the food yet. In fact, everyone (especially the girls) is afraid the food is going to result in a few extra pounds this year. But then, most people would rather have good food than thin girls.

Junior Laird Yock seems to have great plans in the area of social activities for the year. It seems that in previous years the Social Activities Committee has been saving for a new ten-thousand-dollar projector. Since only about five hundred has been saved, Laird has decided to forget about it and make use of the money in providing more and better activities for the students.

With all of these improvements, this promises to be a good year. Since social activities are going to be better and the food is so good, maybe students will even decide to stick around for a few weekends. Maybe Wartburg could even be taken off the list as being a suitcase college.

Rumor has it that sports at Wartburg are going to be pretty exciting this year. Miracle of miracles, maybe students will even cheer at games. Wartburg could become known as a school with spirit.

Attitude Will Change

We predict that the whole attitude of Wartburg students is going to change this year. Although we can't go so far as to call Wartburg a Utopia, it's getting there. There will always be some complaints, so we suggest that you voice them publicly in a letter to the editor instead of boring your friends with them.

Here's hoping for a good year with good school spirit, students staying on campus for weekends and at least three letters to the editor every week.

As Al Sees It

Situation Results In ?

By L. ALBERT SAGERT

Sagert

Recently, the Waterloo Courier has been running a series of letters on Viet Nam in its column "The Public Speaks." The whole thing started when someone was naive enough to publicly comment on the Southeast Asian situation in a letter to the editor.

Thus commenced a long series of proposals, criticisms, counterproposals, clarifications and muddlings.

These comments ranged from cowardly testaments stating that the writer did not particularly care to die in order to preserve LBJ and the late movie from Communism to the sweetly innocent and sickening appeal to each of us to remember our mother, flag and fatherland.

This latter missive was an outright insult to all reasoning beings. It emphasized that slovenly emotionalism which so often seems to attack people and debilitate their sense when they finally realize that (Heavens!) the pride and sanctity of their country is being threatened by an aggressor, and they should rise to defend it while rallying all faithful Americans to its support.

It seems that patriotism and nationalism should be based upon something more substantial than such blubbering emotion. If not, then perhaps as one of the writers suggested, "It is dead." In one sense, at least, this is very true.

At present we need to have an awareness of the distant parts of the globe and their cultures which has not been necessary before but which now should replace sectional pride and narrow-mindedness.

It is really quite ignorant of us as a "sophisticated" nation to neglect to realize that there are other good and valid ways of living and thinking besides ours. If for no other reason, this point should strike us because we Americans numerically are a minority group in the human establishment.

Relating this to Viet Nam, I feel that most Americans do not know what is actually going on over there, partly due to a lack of diverse cultural awareness. Thus, they are not qualified to expound solutions to the problem. Most of the amateur commentators are the victims of stagnant and uninformed thinking.

The reporters' eyewitness accounts of Chu Lai, Da Nang and Loc Dien show us that men are fighting and dying, seemingly without beneficial result. Government reports are of troop movements and air raids whose value, I feel, is not for us at home to decide.

The returning soliders present another aspect: the people, life and countryside. Besides all this, there is the unknown (at least to most Americans) quantity of the status of North Viet Nam, China, the USSR and the applied meanings of Communism and democracy.

Add this up, and I think you will get a question mark -- not a question of escalation or nuclear weapons or involvement -- simply a question mark.

SBP Speaks

Hamm Urges Participation

By BILL HAMM

A new college year has rolled around amidst a great many changes which are already proving for the better.

Each year at Wartburg seems, through an upperclassman's eyes, to begin with a greater degree of optimism. Especially true now as we continue to witness the outset of a new presidency.

Hopefully, this year will bring many more improvements. The prompt advent of these, however, will occur only if students are willing to play an important and effective role in the administration of their college.

Action Brings Results

The recent betterment in the food service and the obvious promise for further improvement in the future, stands as the most recent memorial to effective student action in the growth of Wartburg.

Whether or not our optimism is rewarded depends on the participation of you, the students. Each student should develop an awareness of the responsibilities delegated to the students' government by the college.

Hamm Urges Awareness

This must be in order that their government may grow because of an awareness and understanding of the opportunities for participation.

Students who remain alert to the weekly "Inside Senate" articles in the Trumpet will undoubtedly formulate opinions which should be shared with their representatives.

These Senators and officers should always be enthused to discuss campus affairs with those they represent.

Students To Participate

Beyond this, every student has many opportunities to participate in commissions, committees and activities throughout the campus.

If every organization and segment of this campus experiences the willing and eager participation of the student, we will enjoy the reward of our early year optimism in a manner which will benefit not only ourselves, but all those who follow.

The Poison Pen

Columnist Pities I-S Girls

By LINDA STULL

Nothing equals the pleasures of being classified 1-S if you're a girl. Like the draft it gets you out of the range of Viet Nam.

Stull

Unlike the draft, it sends you into a situation that is almost as bad. For 1-S indicates to all knowledgeable onlookers that you are (horrors) a senior female student.

To a beginner in the Wartburg draft system this classification is meaningless -- only experience makes one fully aware of the situation.

Things begin when those appealing orange beanies hit the campus. Although various sources say that men are attracted to such colors as blue and red (nobody even mentioned orange), the wholesome, corn-scented air surrounding our fair metropolis seems to make this color a favorite among male students.

Try going to a dance without a beanie and with that withered senior, student-teaching look on your face. At least you'll have a chance to rest. Or, if one of the innocent frosh forgets to take a closer look and asks you to dance, observe the appalled expression that comes into his eyes when he asks you if you are a sophomore and you say "no."

One of the best approaches to this situation for a 1-S is to simply forget the basic tenets of Religion 201 and lie. This permits you to finish the dance in relative comfort, and even though you can't live this lie forever, it can add a few more dances to your evening -- unless fatigue sets in due to advanced age.

One encouraging note for the 1-S is that some men are never really moved by beanies. This classification for males includes 2-M (married), 3-E (engaged), 4-H (which makes it rough for the guys) and 2-S (real student).

And some men eventually get over the orange fad and return to familiar material. These include 4-M (minor in search of companion with ID), 5-B (bum looking for wife who will soon graduate and support him).

Yes, 1-S is quite a category around here. It seems to be practically unavoidable if you can pass from class to class. And so, girls, my advice is to flunk -- socially you'll be a lot happier. But if you do pass, remember that there are many organizations and activities on campus that need your help. Take the Trumpet, for instance----

The Trumpet staff welcomes all letters to the editor. All letters must be signed. The writer should be careful not to make libelous statements. Letters should be brief and to the point. Remember -- letters do not have to be complaints.

18 Join Wartburg Faculty; 3 More Teaching Part-time

Eighteen new faces are taking their respective places on the Wartburg faculty this fall.

They are Robert G. Wells, assistant professor of biology; Luther Morton, instructor of biology; Hal W. Walter, assistant football and head tennis coach; Lewis J. Levick, head basketball coach; Mrs. Frances Mueller, physical education instructor.

Additional Profs Given

Mrs. Muriel Moe, assistant professor of business administration and economics; William E. Petig, instructor of German.

Frank E. Williams, assistant professor of music; Russell Dick, visiting assistant professor of French and Spanish; Elmer Menage, physical education instructor.

Norman Ramsey, assistant professor of speech; James E. Cleland, assistant professor of business administration and economics; Harold E. Motter, assistant professor of instrumental music; John Tuecke, instructor in mathematics.

More New Profs Listed

Mrs. Margaret Lindberg, instructor of English; Dwight C. Marsh, assistant professor of English; Neal Winkler, assistant professor of education and director of elementary education; James R. Sperstad, instructor of political science.

Part-time instructors include Alfred Comens, instructor in psychology; Mrs. Jean Madsen, instructor in music; and the Rev. Gustav Riggert, instructor in religion.

Convocation To Feature Dr. Nichols

Dr. Ralph G. Nichols will present a lecture on "Curiosity: Key to Concentration" for next Tuesday's convocation. Thursday's convo will feature a report on the Wartburg Choir's European tour.

Nichols

In Tuesday's lecture, Dr. Nichols, head of the Rhetoric Department at the University of Minnesota, will attempt to answer the question "How can man focus his mental processes?"

Concentration Is Problem

"Inability to concentrate is the greatest and most persistent problem that all college students face. Mental efficiency is the foundation of all efficiency," says Dr. Nichols.

A nationally known speaker and writer on problems in communication, Nichols is the author of eight books and several magazine articles.

Nichols' Credits Given

Nichols is a former president of the Speech Association of America and also former president of the National Society for the Study of Communication.

Dr. Nichols spoke at a Wartburg convocation four years ago and was enthusiastically received, according to those who heard him.

Chris Schmidt, president of the choir, is in charge of Thursday's convocation.

Becker To Lead Heart Association

Dr. C. H. Becker, president emeritus, has been named Associate Chairman of the Bremer County Heart Association.

The local organization is currently promoting Heart Education. The project will lead to a drive in February.

Marcel Marceau To Open '65 Artist Series Season

"Our Artist Series program this year is better than that of colleges two or three times larger than Wartburg," according to Dr. A. W. Swensen, Artist Series chairman.

Marcel Marceau will open the Artist Series season on Nov. 14. He is on his third American tour as "the greatest living pantomimist."

Born near Strausberg, France, in 1923, Marceau has made numerous television appearances and has performed in 35 countries.

Baritone Will Appear

Nationally acclaimed Eugene Holmes, young Negro baritone, will be on campus Dec. 5. He is a graduate assistant at the Indiana University School of Music.

Holmes is from Brownsville, Tenn., where he became interested in music and later sang in several opera guilds and workshops.

Ruth Laredo To Perform

On Jan. 9 Ruth Laredo will perform here. In 1959 she was awarded a scholarship by the State Department of Puerto Rico to attend Casals Festival in San Juan.

Later she was chosen as U. S. representative in an exchange program of the International Federation of Juanesses Musicales.

Krakow Group To Appear

Krakow Choir and Orchestra composed of 20 chorus members and 30 orchestral members will be here Feb. 13.

This will be its first U. S. tour. It will present ancient, romantic and modern music.

Artist Series season will close on March 31 with the appearance of Jan Peerce and Mary Costa, both of the Metropolitan Opera.

Peerce Is Renowned

Peerce has made numerous radio, television and motion picture appearances. He has been hailed as "All-American successor to the 'greats' of opera's almost extinct Golden Age."

Mary Costa made her debut on Jan. 6, 1964, singing Violetta in "La Traviata." She will sing the title role in Samuel Barber's opera "Vanessa" before leaving for the U. S. S. R. to sing "Traviata" with the Bolshoi Opera and tour Leningrad, Kiev, Riga and Minsk.

New Christy Minstrels Slated For 1965 Fall Pops Concert

New Christy Minstrels will be featured at the 1965 Fall Pops Concert Oct. 3, according to sophomore Russ Talbott, chairman of the concert committee. The concert will be held at 8 p.m. in the Chapel-auditorium.

Tickets will go on sale Wednesday through Saturday exclusively on campus at a cost of $3.25. After Saturday the price will be raised to $3.50.

Talbott describes the Pops Concert Committee as being in "perilous straits financially" in explaining the increase in cost over previous Pops Concerts.

Last year's concerts resulted in a $1,100 loss, leaving the committee the choice of making good on this concert or being satisfied with lower caliber concerts.

In addition to the increased cost, complimentary tickets will have to be held to a maximum of 10, according to Chairman Talbott.

Talbott urges the support of the student body in making this Pops Concert a success so that future programs may be of the same high caliber.

"We are certain that the New Christy Minstrels, by virtue of past performances in concert, on television and through recordings, will present a tremendous show -- appealing to both college students and the general public," said Talbott.

New Christy Minstrels will perform at the Fall Pops Concert Oct. 3. Russ Talbot, chairman of the event, says that the success of the concert will determine the future of the Pops Concerts.

Inside Senate

Senate Will Hear Students

By SUE KELL

If I stood in the middle of the campus with a poster reading, "Wartburg students demand free speech!," I would look pretty ridiculous. (I might be suspended from college.)

Kell

I don't need to make a fool of myself and march up and down the campus with a poster to demand that students have a voice in campus policy.

Wartburg students don't have to picket to demand free speech. They have this right and an organization to represent them. Students can take their gripes and opinions to the student senate.

Committees Now Commissions

The senate is more than a shoulder to cry on. The eight standing commissions (formerly called committees) help organize campus activities. Activities vary from sponsoring social activities such as the Pops Concert to seriously discussing campus intellectual life.

Always concerned with the sometimes ailing Wartburg school spirit the senate has established a new commission. It is called the Traditions Commission, and its purpose is to coordinate pep activities. Senior Marg Freeland, a faithful Wartburg cheerleader, is the head of this commission. This is Wartburg's "War on Apathy."

V. P. Receives More Duties .....

Look out for that vice president! He has been given more to do this year and according to reports is a very busy senator.

Don't forget the booksale! It will be on for several days.

Remember this is "Be kind to your Senator" week. See you at the next senate meeting!

Co-Captains Kittleson, Newlon Describe Typical Practice Day

Senior co-captains of the 1965 football team, Gayle Newlon and Rog Kittleson, demonstrate the seemingly easy technique of the short pass in practice here.

By GARY SWEDBERG

Roger Kittleson and Gayle Newlon are the Knights' '65 co-captains for the fast approaching grid season. Roger hails from St. Ansgar and is majoring in physical education.

Gayle comes from Hooppole, Ill., and is majoring in history. Both are seniors with three years of football to their credit.

Day Begins At Five

The typical day for the co-captains as well as the team begins at 5 a.m. The players must get out of bed and be at the gym by 5:15 a.m. for taping. From this point on, the key word "aggressive" can be felt in the air, and according to this year's co-captains, the team is very aggressive.

Both young men feel that the whole team is working well and hitting hard--"They all want to play."

Once they set foot onto the field, they run from that minute on. No one stands still or walks to his position on the field. On the practice field players start first with the "dirty thirty," consisting of calisthenics, sprints and "crawlies."

From here they go into their fundamentals of passing, blocking, tackling and punting. Next, follows the "meat grinder," consisting of one-on-one, two-on-one or even three-on-one. After some additional contact, they end their morning practice session with wind sprints.

At the end of the afternoon session, the team runs what is called the "payoff run"--the run that is going to beat Dubuque. After the afternoon practice session, the boys return to the gym for chalk talks. Bedtime, according to the schedule handed out by Coach Bondhus, is 10 p.m.

Rain Slows Conditioning

Both co-captains seem to feel that the rainy weather has slowed down their conditioning process somewhat; but at the same time they know that Coach Bondhus will have them in top condition for their key game with Dubuque Sept. 18.

Both men feel that since this is the first game of the season, it is to be considered the key game of the season. The last time that Dubuque was defeated was in 1962, Kittleson's and Newlon's freshman year.

Central is once again slated to win the conference, as it was last year. As some of the upperclassmen know, Wartburg defeated that top rated team, 6-0.

Knights There For Homecoming

Rumor has it that Central has moved its homecoming date back two weeks so that Wartburg and Central will meet on the grid field for the Central homecoming.

Team co-captains agree that student support of the team will aid their aggressive attitude, and give the necessary boost that they need for that winning season that has been so long in coming.

Moyer Injured

Center John Moyer suffered the reoccurrance of a high school knee injury. Because of the injury Moyer will be forced to drop football for the year.

Knee condition appeared in the first week of practice and has not shown signs of healing properly.

Knights will certainly feel his loss as Bondhus regarded him as a fine prospect. It was deemed that Moyer's injury was in danger of becoming permanent unless he quit the sport.

Four Lettermen To Lead '65 Cross Country Team

By GAYLEN FICK

Four lettermen and several promising freshmen form a nucleus that could see Wartburg's cross-country team make a strong bid to regain the Iowa Conference title.

Coach John Kurtt has several of his harriers already treading a beaten path to and from the Waverly golf course.

Bulk of the weight is resting on the four lettermen. Senior Jim Rasmuson, Milwaukee, Wis.; junior Gaylen Fick, Blue Grass; sophomore Jon Thieman, Newell; and sophomore Mike Hughes, Oconomowoc, Wis., hope to keep up their fine performances of past years.

Two Will Compete

Juniors Bruce Kettner, Waverly, and Roger Stufflebeam, Plainfield, will be strongly competing for a top spot on the seven-man team.

Kurtt praises his freshman harriers highly. Rod Halt of Schofield, Wis., and Steve Jaco, Davenport, are names to look for this season. Terry Sexton, Carpentersville, Ill., and Mike Banashak of Albert Lea, Minn., are freshmen planning to join the team within the week.

Sophomore Jerry Augst, who has a fine high school track record and college I.M. record, has reported to Coach Kurtt recently.

Meeting In Gym Monday

Kurtt urges those who are not familiar with the Waverly golf course but would like to be, to come to a squad meeting in the gym at 4 p.m. next Monday.

Knights Are Out To Win; Dubuque Looks Strong

By ED ROACH

Head Football Coach Lee Bondhus reports that the Knights are busily preparing for the season opener with Dubuque Sept. 18. The word from the grid camp is that the team is progressing well in spite of inclement weather hampering practice.

Although Bondhus readily admits that the footballers are not prepared for the season's kickoff, he hastens to add that they have made steady improvement while maintaining their high morale.

This morning at 8:30 the football Knights held a public scrimmage for students and local fans. It provided an opportunity to observe the new look in Wartburg football.

38 Show For Practice

Thirty-eight gridders turned out for the opening of varsity drills approximately two weeks ago. Of this number 21 are either freshmen or sophomores. This situation may prove to be a disadvantage in the early season, but this is definitely a building year for Wartburg football.

Wartburg will sport a new offense this fall. The exact nature of the new attack remains somewhat of a mystery until the Dubuque game. Bondhus refuses to uncover the offensive configuration other than to describe it as a "pro formation."

Dubuque boasts an experienced team with plenty of size and speed. Last year's meeting with the Spartans was a disaster for Wartburg fans as the Knights fell victim to a 33 to 0 drubbing.

Coach Picks Dubuque 2nd

This year Dubuque presents even a more formidable aggregation with more experience and added strength at quarterback. Bondhus picks the Spartans for a second - place finish in the Iowa Conference. The Waterloo Courier places Dubuque in the top spot.

The Spartans should provide strong opposition for the Wartburg eleven in the opener.

Monday is the first practice for the junior varsity. Thirty-five freshmen are expected to fill the ranks.

Co-Chairmen Reveal Plans For Intramural Program

Co-chairmen John Mantey and Dennis Rubenow are proceeding with plans for the '65 - '66 intramural season. The fall football program will be scheduled after all the housing units are signed up.

Mantey, who is heading the fall program, stresses the fact that intramurals are not designed for the excellent athletes alone. They are designed with the intent of providing healthful recreation for Wartburg students. Mantey expressed the hope that many students will sign up for football on the sheets to be posed in each housing unit.

Participation Hoped For

This year it is hoped that there will be enough participation in the program to avoid the necessity of combining housing units to form a team. It is anticipated that each group will complete a round robin with all the other participating teams.

Games will be held at 4 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Saturday morning games will be held at 9 a.m. An "all star" team is expected to take on the season's champions after completion of the schedule. No date has been set for the "Intramural Bowl" playoff.

Football To Begin Soon

If everything progress without a hitch, the football season will begin on Tuesday, Sept. 20.

Golf and tennis will also be featured in the early fall. Plans for these sports have not reached completion.

Annual Turkey Run will be held just before the Thanksgiving vacation. The winner will be the owner of a turkey for his holiday dinner.

Volleyball Will Follow

Volleyball will hold the I.M. spotlight after the end of the football season.

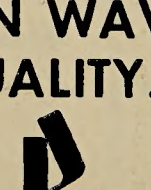
Mantey voiced an urgent plea for referees for the up-coming season. Some financial rewards will be allotted for any who will brave the slings and arrows of outraged I.M. participants.

Nobody Asked Me, But . . .

Talent Helps Football Squad

By BILL GLITZ

Those explosive sounds originating from the area of the trailer court are not the feuding of Wartburg spouses. Those are football players, gang. And they have really been popping one another.



GLITZ

Coach Lee Bondhus has been trying to throw a killer instinct into his squad. From the looks of things, he's succeeding.

--0--

Crutches, knee braces and mending tape have become the order of the day around Knights Gym. Bondhus made it explicit to his squad that he wants players who came to play football. In the first two weeks of practice they have been playing football -- to the hilt.

Tempers even flared among team members in a scrimmage a week ago. If Bondhus can get his squad that mad at Dubuque next weekend, eyebrows may be raised about the Knights around the Iowa Conference.

It will take more than meanness to win football games, however. Talent helps.

The Knights have talent, but the big question is how far this talent can be developed. It's a young squad that Bondhus will go with, but a young squad with experience.

Many of the sophomores who will be starting picked up valuable lessons while playing varsity ball last year. Whether they learned their lessons will be judged as the season progresses.

Bondhus will have his problems. Size is not one of his squad's assets (Although "Tiny" Burress could help this problem if he decides to belt a few of the opposition this year) and Wartburg could definitely use some power in the backfield. But other departments must bring feelings of optimism to supporters of the Orange and Black.

--0--

Miracles cannot be expected from Bondhus. He has already made the remark that a .500 season is his goal. Certainly this would indicate a step in the right direction for Wartburg football fortunes.

And the flesh of the squad indeed appears willing to play some hard-nosed football this year.

Wartburg football coaches take time out as Head Coach Bondhus points out something to them. The coaches are Lenguadoro, Bondhus and Menage.

Chef, Director Change Cafeteria

By JEAN BIERE

One of the biggest and most noticeable changes at Wartburg this fall is the change in the cafeteria setup.

Paul McClain, the new food service director, and Les Reeder, the cafeteria's new chef, are the men responsible.

McClain succeeds Mrs. Loreen Grube, who is his assistant in charge of student labor. The post of chef, filled by Reeder, is newly formed.

Desires To Be Met

The two emphasized that they are anxious to give the student what he wants.

"In fine dining, one likes to choose the place, the price and the food. These choices are taken from the student in a cafeteria situation, so we would like to find out what the student wants," said McClain.

To find out what the student wants, McClain and Reeder will have weekly meetings with the Cafeteria Committee.

At these meetings present and past menus will be discussed.

Menus To Be Approved

"Any menu that is not approved by the committee will not be served," said Reeder.

Menus will be posted in all dorms so that students may know what is planned.

"Second helpings will also be given for all items except high-priced foods, such as steak, chicken, ice cream, cookies and apples," said Reeder.

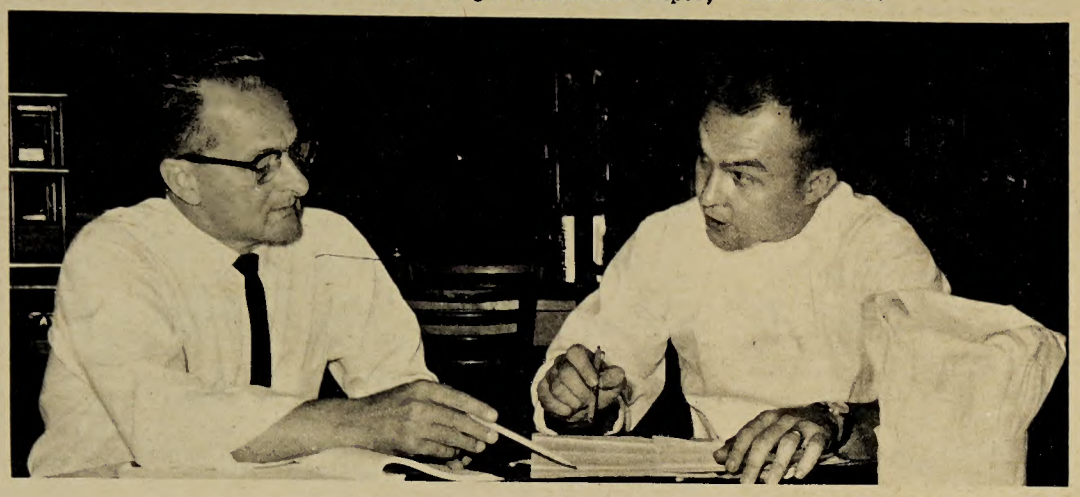
Both McClain and Reeder emphasized that this first week is purely experimental. More cafeteria help is needed and a routine has to be established.

McClain Has Experience

McClain, married and the father of seven children, has had much experience in food services. He came here from Rath's, Waterloo, where he had been since 1931. Working his way up from general kitchen helper, he became office and plant cafeteria manager in 1962.

Working at a college cafeteria is not new for Reeder. He served in various positions at St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn., and at Luther College, Decorah. He also worked for three and a half years at Rath's and was a cook in the U. S. Navy for four years.

Reeder is married and has four children.



Paul McClain, food service director, and Les Reeder, the new chef, discuss the up-coming menu.

Homecoming Plans Given

Homecoming committees resumed work this week in preparation for Homecoming weekend, Oct. 15, 16 and 17. Chairman of the event is senior Dave Wegenast.

In addition to the traditional Kastle Kapers, mystery convo, banquet and dance, a barbecue will be held during the weekend festivities this year.

Wegenast reports that the barbecue will be one of the biggest events of the weekend.

Barbecue To Serve 2,000

Co-sponsored by the college and the service organizations of Waverly, the barbecue will include both college students and members of the community. It is expected to serve some two thousand people.

Decorations and entertainment will also be provided in the Den that weekend, according to Wegenast.

"Naughty Knights Mighty Nightie March" is scheduled for the opening night of Homecoming weekend. Primarily a pep march, it will also feature special contests and activities.

Sunday's Events Uncertain

Sunday activities are still in the planning stages. An Artist Series which had originally been planned for that date has been cancelled. Wegenast said that he hopes to substitute some other events.

Game theme for the weekend is "Whallop William," William Penn College of Oskaloosa being the rival team. Religious theme is "Hope Through Turmoil."

Pi Sigma To Hold Tea, Sock Hop

Pi Sigma will sponsor two social activities this weekend, according to senior Carol Lee, president of the organization.

Tonight the group will hold its annual sock hop in the gym at 8 p.m. The dance is open to all students.

Tomorrow Pi Sigma will have a Get Acquainted Tea for all Wartburg women. The event will be held in Centennial Hall Lounge from 3 to 5 p.m.

Humorous Side Of Tour Told

By MARY KROHLOW

Sophomore Will Reents will never forget the 1965 European tour which he took part in as a member of the Wartburg College Choir.

Reents met with a somewhat frightening experience. He managed to get locked in the bathroom at a home where no one spoke English. Unfortunately, he wasn't able to speak German, either. However, after a little commotion, he managed to get out.

Seeing German beatniks was one of the more unusual experiences for sophomore Joanne Gronewald. She described them as having "shoulder length hair, tight black trousers, black leather jackets, high heeled shoes and beards." (And they say Americans are crazy!)

Language Causes Problems

Some of the funniest experiences occurred as a result of communication barriers. After an evening meal, sophomore Jacquelyn Bossom came out with the statement, "Ich bin voll."

Although she thought she was telling her hosts that she was full, she was really saying that she was drunk. She rationalizes her way out of it though by saying, "Their attempts at English are equally funny.

"One host said after I'd had my shower that there were handkerchiefs hanging on the door."

What A Way To Fly!

And then there was junior LaNell Bailey who explained that she came across the Atlantic "Par Avion" (by Air Mail).

One of the most fascinating things to senior Bob Hummel was the beer tent at a fair in Furstenfeldbruck, Germany. He estimates the size of the tent as being at least as large as a football field. Besides that, the mugs held a whole quart!

All in all, the choir members consider the whole tour a wonderful experience. The people were just like Americans. The scenery was beautiful. Senior Chris Schmidt, choir president, said, "Good weather followed the choir wherever it went."

Many things will be remembered about the tour, but somehow one always remembers the humorous experiences longer. Many of them can't be printed for various reasons.

As senior Ron Zwicker puts it, "I have had several amusing experiences, but none that could go into a newspaper."

Yet chances are that he won't forget them for a long time.

Wetmore Gets Ph. D Degree

Dr. Clifford Wetmore, Biology Department, was granted his Ph.D. degree by Michigan State University.

His doctoral thesis was "Lichen Flora of the Black Hills of South Dakota and Wyoming," which involved six years of research, including two summers of collecting and identifying species, including some which have never previously been reported and one which he currently is having named.

Dr. Wetmore, who is now considered to be the world's foremost authority on South Dakota and Wyoming lichens, has started another project involving this plant order.

Don't just stand there learn something!

The competition for good jobs is a very fast track today. And you can't afford to just stall around, while others are learning how to move ahead faster.

Today, to get a good job, you need a good education. You really can't get ahead without one. A good education is the first thing most employers ask for. It proves you've got what it takes to handle a good job . . . a good paying job . . . a job with a solid future.

So, if you're in school now . . . stay there! Learn all you can for as long as you can. If you're out of school, you can still get plenty of valuable training outside the classroom. For the latest information, visit the Youth Counsellor at your State Employment Service. Remember, a good education isn't a luxury today. It's an absolute necessity.

Students Sound Off

What Is Your Favorite College Tradition?

By MARY HJERMSTAD

Ranging from fishponds to warlike trophies of victory, traditions are an important part of Wartburg College life.

Jo Guetzlaff, Senior

"I like the friendly atmosphere at Wartburg. It makes you feel wanted. Perhaps this is a good time to say that this is the main purpose of freshman initiation.

Guetzlaff

"Many students see initiation as a means of revenge, but it is really a good way to make friends."

Joseph Rucys, Junior

"The traditional 'Hi' emphasizes friendliness in the best of Wartburg tradition. This is not just a notation in the student handbook--it should be practiced by everyone.

Rucys

"Saying 'Hi' brings students closer together. The same holds true when sitting down at a table in the Den or cafeteria. Don't be afraid to introduce yourself!

"I think that the ability to get along is an important part of education, a part that can be acquired by taking the initiative to say, 'Hi.'"

Carol Meyer, Senior

"I think that Outfly is something unique. It makes Wartburg different from other schools.

Meyer

"Outfly is a surprise vacation, a day when no classes are held. Fall Outfly formally ends freshman initiation, and spring Outfly serves as a final vacation before exams."

Barb Nelson, Senior

"The Den is a good place to get together between classes, after supper, after studying. . .An informal, friendly place, the Den is a good place to get to know people. To me, this is one of the important experiences of college."

Nelson
